

Continuing Education Questionnaire

Cultural Differences and Rehabilitation, a Hispanic View

1. According to Hofstade's cultural dimensions, Americans as a culture value the group and the benefit of belonging to a larger group, looking after each other in exchange for loyalty.

TRUE FALSE

2. Americans as a culture tend to emphasize schedules, segmentation, and promptness. Other cultures emphasize the involvement of people, going back and forth between tasks, rather than following schedules.

TRUE FALSE

3. Low context communication style includes asking questions, direct language, and clarification.

TRUE FALSE

4. Assimilation could be defined as the process of becoming "Americanized"...

TRUE FALSE

5. Mexican-born immigrants represent the third largest immigrant group in the country.

TRUE FALSE

6. Language influences the way people see the world...

TRUE FALSE

7. Power of Distance (one of Hofstade's cultural dimensions), reflects the manner in which cultures view authority figures.

TRUE FALSE

8. All Hispanics in the USA are from Mexico.

TRUE FALSE

9. Americans as a culture tend to celebrate individual accomplishments.

TRUE FALSE

10. Understanding and appropriately responding to variables such as age, gender, ethnicity, linguistic background, religion, socioeconomic status, etc. is known as Cultural Competence.

TRUE FALSE