

Continuing Education Questionnaire

Write Your Name:

Once this form is completed, please submit to institute@neurorestorative.com

"Functional Approaches to Managing Memory and Cognitive Deficits in Individuals with Brain Injury"

1. The leading cause of TBI in 0-14 years and 65 plus is:

- A. Fall
- B. Blunt Trauma
- C. MVA

2. There are approximately 50 million people living with TBI in the USA.

- True
- False

3. Difficulty sitting still or carrying on a conversation can be a deficit in attention.

- True
- False

4. Having trouble following the plot of a television show is not associated with a processing problem.

- True
- False

5. What behavior demonstrates lack of awareness in social boundaries?

- A. Sitting quietly in a doctor's office
- B. Invading personal space
- C. Waiting to be seated at a restaurant

Continuing Education Questionnaire

6. Which is a type of memory?

- A. Sensory
- B. Short term
- C. Explicit Memory
- D. All of the above

7. Short term memory deficits are one of the most common after a brain injury.

- True
- False

8. Repetition is not important when it comes to neuroplasticity.

- True
- False

9. Lack of awareness to deficits is called:

- A. Amnesia
- B. Aphasia
- C. Anosagnosia
- D. None of the above

10. Post it notes can be used as an external memory aid.

- True
- False